

College of Arts and Sciences

Department: Mathematics
Position: Hans J. Zassenhaus and Arnold Ross Visiting Assistant Professorships
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Description:

The Department of Mathematics in the College of Arts and Sciences at The Ohio State University is accepting applications for Hans J. Zassenhaus (ZAP) and Arnold Ross (RAP) Visiting Assistant Professorships. Pending approval, these positions would be available effective Autumn Semester 2020. These term positions are renewable annually for up to a total of three years. The emphasis of ZAPs is teaching and research, while RAPs focus primarily on teaching. While teaching loads are subject to change, the teaching load for a ZAP is 2-1 (two courses in the autumn and one in the spring semester). A RAP will be expected to teach one course and two recitations (or equivalent assignment) each semester.

Qualifications:

All candidates are required to have a Ph.D. in mathematics and to present evidence of excellence in teaching and research. Further information on the department can be found at <https://math.osu.edu/>. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

Applicant Instructions:

All candidates should apply online at <http://www.mathjobs.org>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Applications received prior to November 1, 2019 will receive priority consideration. Inquiries may be directed to Denise Clark at clark.879@osu.edu. Applications will be considered on a continuing basis, but the annual review process begins November 1, 2019.
